MEMORANDUM FOR All 2ID/RUCD Personnel

SUBJECT: Command Policy Letter #6: Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) and the EEO Discrimination Complaint Process

1. References:

- a. AR 690-12 (Equal Employment Opportunity and Diversity), 12 December 2019.
- b. AR 690-600 (Equal Employment Opportunity Discrimination Complaints), 9 February 2004
- c. Eighth Army Command Policy Letter #8, EEO and the EEO Discrimination Complaint Process, 3 October 2020

2. Purpose. To establish policy and procedures for the discrimination complaint process.

3. Background.

a. Leaders will take steps to identify and remove barriers for equal participation in the workforce. Barriers include policies, principles, and practices that limit or tend to limit employment opportunities for people of a particular race, color, religion, sex (including Sexual Harassment, gender, national origin, age (over 40), physical/mental disability, reprisal, marital status, political affiliation, parental status, and genetic predisposition.

b. 2d Infantry Division is committed to equal opportunity and diverse principles in all aspects of employment. All Civilian employees, former employees, and applicants for employment are covered by AR 690-600. Employees are entitled to initiate a complaint of alleged discrimination when they believe they are discriminated against because of race color, religion, sex (including sexual harassment), national origin, age (over 40), physical/mental disability, and/or genetic predisposition in an employment matter. In addition, reprisal against those who exercise their rights under applicable EEO laws or oppose unlawful discriminatory practice is prohibited and is not tolerated.

c. Equal Opportunity protection includes all Human Resources/employment programs, management practices and decisions, to include recruitment and hiring, merit promotion, reassignment, training, and career development. Employees can initiate the EEO complaint process by contacting an EEO officer, specialist, assistant, or counselor. Contact is made for proceeding with a matter of concern within the following timeline:

SUBJECT: Command Policy Letter #6: Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) and the EEO Discrimination Complaint Process

(1) Within 45 calendar days of the alleged discriminatory act or practice;

(2) In the case of a personnel action, within 45 calendar days of the effective date of the action; or

(3) Within 45 calendar days from when the aggrieved became aware of the alleged discriminatory action or practice. The 45-day time limit can be extended under certain circumstances provided in AR 690-600, paragraph 3-4(b).

4. Discussion.

a. Leaders will apply the principles and methods of equal opportunity in daily organizational activities. Managers and supervisors are aware that our leadership roles place us in a position where our behavior is particularly critical to the work environment. All employees are responsible for conducting their part in maintaining a discrimination free, respectful, and productive work environment. To this end, workforce participation in EEO, Anti-Harassment, and NoFEAR training is an annual requirement.

b. When complaints arise, efforts to resolve them fairly and promptly at the lowest level possible begins immediately. When brought to their attention, supervisors are encouraged to explore all reasonable methods for resolving employee complaints. Managers and supervisors will cooperate and consult with EEO officials as issues arise. If it is determined as an appropriate avenue to resolve the matter at issue, managers will participate in the alternative dispute resolution process.

c. Every individual will respect the right of an employee to pursue their complaint without fear of reprisal.

5. I am committed to providing a work environment free from discrimination. Our mission depends on it and our employees deserve nothing less. I expect leaders at every level to share my commitment in fostering a work environment free of discrimination in any form.

6. The proponent for this policy is the Eighth Army EEO Office at DSN (315) 755-0320/21.
